ADMIN GUIDE

Running the shop

A short guide to the three things you will do most: adding a product, sending out an order, and handling an exchange. Everything happens in your admin area; nothing needs a developer.

SIGNING IN

Go to www.shopdoree.co/admin/login and sign in with hello@shopdoree.co and your password. Use this page, not the customer login. It works on a phone or a computer; a computer is easier for adding products.

What is in the menu

Products: add and edit pieces, publish them.

Inventory: every size and its stock, on one page.

Categories: the type of piece (Earrings, Necklaces, Bracelets, Rings).

Collections: named sets of pieces, such as Soleil.

Orders: everything customers have bought.

Messages: notes sent from the Contact page.

Shipping: your delivery fees by state.

Site content: home page words and photos, policies and guides.

Subscribers: people who signed up for news.

> Changes you make appear on the shop within about a minute. If a page still looks the same, wait a moment and refresh.

1. ADDING A PRODUCT

From photo to shop

Create it

1. Go to Products and press Add product.
2. Fill in the Name, Price (in dollars, e.g. 68.00), Stock (how many you have) and a short Description. Leave Slug blank; it is made from the name and becomes the product's web address.
3. Press Save as draft. A draft is only visible to you, so you can finish it calmly. (You can press Publish now instead if it is ready.)

Finish the details

You land on the product's page, which has four parts.

1. Details. Add Materials and Care notes. Choose its Category (the type of piece) and tick any Collections it belongs to. Tick Best seller to show it on the home page (up to four). Press Save.
2. Variants and stock. Each size or option is a variant with its own stock. A piece with no sizes keeps the one variant called "One size". For sizes, rename "One size" to the first size (e.g. 16") and press Save, then add each other size under New variant with its stock and press Add variant. SKU is an optional stock code of your own; leave it blank if you don't use one.
3. Images. Press Upload images and choose your photos; phone photos (including iPhone HEIC) are fine and are resized automatically. The first photo is the main one; use Move earlier / Move later to reorder. Give each photo a short Alt text (e.g. "Sol hoops worn on the ear") for people using screen readers, and click a photo to choose the part the arched crop keeps in view.
4. Publish. Press Publish at the top of the page. It needs at least one variant. The piece appears on the shop within a minute.

GOOD TO KNOW

- Stock goes down by itself every time someone pays. When a size reaches 0 it shows as sold out.
- To restock, change the numbers in Inventory and press Save stock changes. Set Show to Low or Out of stock to see what needs attention.
- To take a piece off the shop without deleting it, press Unpublish.
- New collection? Create it first under Collections (name, wide banner photo and a one-line intro), then tick it on each product.

2. FULFILLING AN ORDER

Packing and sending

When someone pays, two emails go out automatically: the customer gets an order confirmation, and hello@shopdoree.co gets "New order #…" with an Open in admin button. The admin home page also shows how many orders are waiting under To fulfil.

What the order statuses mean

STATUS	MEANING	WHAT TO DO
Pending	The customer started checkout but has not paid. No money has been taken.	Nothing. Ignore these.
Paid	Square has taken the payment. Stock has already gone down.	Pack and send it.
Fulfilled	You have sent it.	Nothing more.
Cancelled	Will not be sent.	See "Cancelling" below.

Orders become Paid automatically once Square confirms the payment; there is no button to do this by hand.

Sending an order

1. Open Orders, set the filter to Paid, and open the order (or use the button in the email).
2. Check the Items (including sizes) and the Shipping address, then pack and post it.
3. In the Status box, choose Fulfilled. In Message to the customer, add the tracking number and anything personal (optional).
4. Press Update status. The customer is emailed that their order is on its way, with your message. A line at the top confirms the email was sent.

Use Private note on the order for your own reminders; customers never see it.

CANCELLING A PAID ORDER

1. Refund the payment in the Square dashboard: Transactions → open the payment → Issue refund. The website cannot refund.
2. In the order's Status box choose Cancelled and press Update status.
3. Cancelling does not put stock back. Add it back in Inventory.

> Check a payment emails: if one ever arrives, Square may have charged a customer twice for the same order. Look the payment up in Square → Transactions and refund the duplicate.

3. HANDLING AN EXCHANGE

Exchanges, never refunds

Your policy (shown on the site under Returns): exchanges only, no refunds; requests within 14 days of delivery by DM to @doreeofficial_; the piece must be unworn, unwashed and in its original packaging; personalised or custom pieces cannot be exchanged. The customer pays to send it back; you pay to send the new piece.

1. Read the request. The customer DMs @doreeofficial_ with photos of the piece in its packaging and the reason. Ask for their order number or the email they ordered with.
2. Find the order. In Orders, search by order number, name or email. Check what they bought, the size, and the date, to confirm they are within 14 days of delivery.
3. Check the replacement is in stock. Search for it in Inventory. If it is the last one, lower its stock by 1 now so it is held for this customer.
4. Approve it. Reply with your confirmation and the address to send the piece back to.
5. When the return arrives, inspect it. If it can be sold again, add 1 back to its stock in Inventory and press Save stock changes. If you did not hold the replacement in step 3, lower its stock by 1 now.
6. Send the new piece and DM or email the customer the tracking number.
7. Write it down. On the original order, add a Private note, e.g. "Exchanged Ayla Band size 6 for size 7 on 20 Oct. Tracking 9400…". Leave the order status as it is.

GOOD TO KNOW

- Exchanges are handled by hand: the website does not create a new order for them, so the stock changes in steps 3 and 5 are what keep your numbers right.
- If the new piece costs more, agree the difference with the customer directly (for example, a Square invoice or payment link). The website does not handle price differences.
- If a request is outside 14 days, worn, or a custom piece, the policy lets you decline it politely and point to the Returns page.

> Stuck on something? Write down the order number and what you see on screen (a photo of the screen helps) and send it to whoever looks after the website.
